

ARLINGTON ENTERPRISE

VOL. I. NO. 53

ARLINGTON, MASS., SEPTEMBER 30, 1899.

TWO CENTS.

Wanted REAL ESTATE

In Arlington to SELL
RENT
EXCHANGE
MORTGAGE
AUCTION INSURE

On account of the unusual desire of the public for Real Estate in Arlington, I wish to have as large a list of property
as possible to submit to my clients.
Placing of mortgages at low rates a specialty.

Call or write for terms. No charge unless of service.

Henry W. Savage

37 Court st., Boston. Bank Bl'dg, Arlington.

WINTHROP PATTEE, LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE.

Central Dry Goods Company

Bargain Days.

Today and Monday.

Headquarters for Men and Children's Underwear.

477 Massachusetts Avenue.

REMEMBER THE MANE, OLD MAN!

with a gentle reminder that we have all kinds of stable and horse goods for "turf, field and farm," whips, ear nets, fly nets, lap cloths, sheets and blankets, as well as a superb stock of fine harnesses and saddles. Our goods are all in the latest styles and of the best manufacture.

Arlington Harness Co Fowl's Block, Arlington

FREE! FREE! FREE!

A Beautiful Oak Rocker given absolutely free.

Call at our store and procure a special cash offer card. Have the amount of every cash sale punched from the card, and when your purchases amount to $20.00 return the card to us and we will deliver at your home a splendid oak rocker entirely free of charge. The retail price of the rocker is $4.00 and can be seen in our show window.

I. E. ROBINSON & CO., POST OFFICE BLOCK, 633 Massachusetts Avenue

What, Another One!

Owing to the increase in the labatorial and prescription work, we have been obliged to add another registered clerk to store, Mr. E. M. Higgins, of 18 years' experience, making three registered clerks in attendance. Have we the equal in Arlington? It ought not be any question as to where to go and get your medicines.

C. W. PALMER, E. M. HIGGINS, A. A. TILDEN,
Mass. Reg. No. 911. Mass. Reg. No. 3761. Mass. Reg. No. 2346.

A. A. TILDEN'S Arlington Central Pharmacy.

ESTABLISHED 1859.

618 Mass. avenue.

Wall Papers tested for arsenic, water analyzed, mixtures assayed, and anything in the chemical line attended to by experts.

For a good suit of clothes and a guaranteed fit, go to
J. J. LOFTUS,
the leading tailor
Fall Patterns Now In.
Repairing Neatly Done.

Sherburne Building, Arlington,

Still at the Top

W. H. Webber & Son,

KEEP COOL

R. W. LeBARON,
Electrician and Contractor.

Fan Motors, Electric Flat Irons, Electric Stoves, Curling Iron Heaters, Incandescent Lamps, all styles and candle power. Electric Lights, Bells and Telephones installed. Medical Batteries sold and repaired.

Telephone Connection.

478 Mass. Avenue,

Arlington, Mass.

Free

A FRIEND TO ALL

At the request of many of the friends of the late Mrs. L. F. Cooke, we reproduce below what we wrote of the deceased in the last issue of the Enterprise:

The decease of Mrs. L. F. Cooke of Boston, daughter of the late John P. Squire, whose sudden death is recorded in another column, was peculiarly sad. Mrs. Cooke came out from her home in Boston, attended by her nurse, to call upon her life-long friend, Mrs. Charles Richardson. Mrs. Cooke had been suffering for some time from Bright's disease, but yet so comfortable that she was able to be actively interested in life and to enjoy it. Soon after exchanging greetings with Mrs. Richardson she was seized with convulsions. A physician was immediately called, and everything was done that was possible to do for her relief. She was taken ill at 11 o'clock and died at 2 in the afternoon. Her husband and family friends in Boston reached her bedside before she died.

Mrs. Cooke, who was well known in Arlington, was a woman of rare excellence. Amiable in all her ways, she carried the sunshine with her wherever she went. Her mission in life was to do good and make others happy. She drew about her a large circle of friends who were always delighted to come into her presence. The world was made better through her loving and unselfish life, the memory of which will ever remain a consolation to those who knew her so well, and who loved her so devotedly.

Mrs. Cooke was an active member of the Building Fund Association and also a member of the Relief Corps.

The funeral of the deceased was held on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 23d, at her late home, 14 Allen street, Boston, the Rev. Dr. Withrow of the Park Street Church conducting the services. The Temple Quartette sang several selections, among which were "Abide with Me," and "Gathering Home." The casket was covered with a wealth of bud and blossom. The friends of the B. F. A. brought a beautiful tablet of asters and roses; with the four-leaf clover as their emblem. The Relief Corps sent a harp of pink and white roses and sweet peas. Post 36 sent a crescent; Veritas Lodge, of which Mrs. Cooke was a prominent member, sent a beautifully arranged bouquet of pink roses. These floral offerings were a sweet and fitting testimonial to a life so fragrant with the virtues. Mrs. Cooke had lived a life not for herself alone, but for others. She was happy as she made others happy. She went about doing good, and her benefactions were many. And so it was that at the funeral of the deceased came these sweet and loving remembrances of friends. Interment at Mt. Auburn.

SOLD OUT.

Mr. R. L. Adams of the Pleasant street market has disposed of his provision business and Mr. J. O. Holt has purchased the same. Mr. Adams purchased the business of Mr. Frank P. Winn last January, but owing to poor health he has never been able to give the business his whole attention, and this week he decided to sell and to return to his home at East Killingly, Conn. Mr. Adams has the best wishes of all for his future success.

For some time Mr. Holt has been desirous of combining this branch of business with his grocery store, and at last the opportunity came. It will be a week or so before Mr. Holt will have the market in shape to serve his customers. Mr. Eames will have charge of this new department of Mr. Holt's business.

Delegates to the county convention—Edwin S. Farmer, Edgar Crosby, Joseph C. Holmes, James E. Kimball, Frank Y. Wellington.

Delegates to the representative convention—Edward S. Fessenden, Henry Hornblower, George G. Allen, George W. Sears, Edward A. Bailey, Theodore Schwamb, Alfred H. Knowles, W. E. Lloyd, Walter H. Peirce, Alfred T. Marston, M. Ernest Moore.

The following were elected members of the town committee for 1900:

Frank C. Allen, Arthur J. Wellington, J. Howell Crosby, Winfield S. Durgin, Edward A. Bailey, Edgar Crosby, Horace A. Freeman, Fred M. Goodwillie, James E. Kimball, Alfred T. Marston, M. Ernest Moore, Walter H. Peirce, Henry A. Gorham, George W. W. Sears, Frank Y. Wellington.

The following were elected members of the town committee for 1900:

Frank C. Allen, Arthur J. Wellington, J. Howell Crosby, Winfield S. Durgin, Edward A. Bailey, Edgar Crosby, Horace A. Freeman, Fred M. Goodwillie, James E. Kimball, Alfred T. Marston, M. Ernest Moore, Walter H. Peirce, Henry A. Gorham, George W. W. Sears, Frank Y. Wellington.

There were but few scattering votes.

Some time was consumed in counting the ballots as they were considerably marked.

The Crescent Realty Company

REAL ESTATE

Mortgages, Insurance, Auctioneers

Room 7 Tremont Temple,

BOSTON:

20 P. O. building, Arlington

J. Prescott Gage, Mg'r

Established 1826.

Arlington Insurance Agency

George Y. Wellington & Son, Agents.

Eight Mutual Companies, Ten Stock Companies. Office open daily and Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Savings Bank Building, Arlington Avenue.

Wm. Caldwell, Furniture Carpets

We furnish the entire house from cellar to attic.

Our Fall Goods Ready for Inspection.

Morris chairs from	$5.00 to $15.00
Ladies' rockers from	2.00 to 6.00
" desks from	5.00 to 16.00
Iron beds from	5.00 to 16.00
Mattresses from	3.00 to 5.00
Parlor stoves	3.50 to 20.00

Agents for Crawford, Glenwood and Herald Grand Ranges.

Whist tables and chairs to let.

Furniture and piano moving

DON'T LOOSE THE CHANCE!

S. STICKNEY & CO.,

We have a few of these stoves left which we will sell at a greatly reduced price for cash:

Large 3 burner step stove and oven, former price $13.50; price to close $10.12

Small 2 burner stove and oven, former price $9.50; price to close $7.62

HUNTRESS WINS.

The best art stores sell them at high prices, but we have just purchased 1000 of them at a leading art dealer at a price that enables us to present them without any charge whatever to everybody who will buy three dollars' worth—and please bear in mind that it is not necessary to buy the three dollars' worth at one time. Use this punch card, and when your combined purchases amount to three dollars' worth you may take your choice of the Passpartouts.

We give purchasers the best value in town, and our styles are the latest and best.

PERHAM'S PHARMACY, P. O. BLDG.

Dr. G. W. Yale,

DENTIST,

At parlors, 14-16 Post-office Building,

ARLINGTON,

Open daily, also Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings.

WM. ADDISON GREENE, M. D.

688 Mass. Ave., Arlington.

GRADUATE OF
DARTMOUTH '96
HARVARD POST GRADUATE '97.

OFFICE HOURS: 8-10; A.M. 2-4 6-8 P.M.

Lodge Room Change.

Circle Lodge 77, A. O. U. W.

Will hereafter meet in G. A. R. Hall on the first and third Fridays of each month at eight o'clock.

W. D. Rockwood, M. W.

J. R. Mann, Recorder.

W. A. HODGES,

POST-OFFICE BUILDING,

ARLINGTON.

Newspapers, Periodicals

Full line of Cigars and Tobacco,

Stationery, Confectionery.

Open evenings till 8 o'clock; Saturday evening till 10 o'clock.

If you wish your expressing done on time and trunks taken to and from the depots, try

WELCH'S

Alington Express,

W. E. BROWN, Prop.

Boston Offices: 75 Kilby St., 14 Devonshire St., 139 Kingston St. Order Box, Faneuil Hall Market.

Arlington Order Boxes: Cushing's Store at Heights, Town Hall and corner Beacon St.

FURNITURE MOVING.

Residence, 955 Mass. Avenue, Arlington.

DAVID CLARK,

23 years in the hacking business, is still at the same business at

10 MILL STREET, ARLINGTON.

Rubber-tired carriages for funerals, weddings, and evening parties. Also a wagonette for pleasure parties. Tel connection 12augly.

Young Ladies' School of Shorthand.

No. 36 Bromfield Street, Boston, now open.

Thirteenth Year.

Address MISS N. S. HARDY for prospectus.

E. G. WILFORD

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

DEPOT CARRIAGE

EIGHT RIDES ONE DOLLAR.

M. E. CALLAHAN

Parlor of

Billiards and Pool

Fowle Bl'dg, Mass. Ave.

I have opened a first-class billiard and pool room, and will run the same in a strictly up-to-date style. All kinds of billiards will be served, also a full line of tobacco and cigars.

ARLINGTON ENTERPRISE

Published every Saturday morning at No. 620
Massachusetts avenue.

$1.00 a year, in advance. Single copies 3 cents

F. H. GRAY, PUBLISHER.

WILSON PALMER, EDITOR.

ADVERTISING RATES.

1 wk. 2 wks. 1 mo. 3 mos. 6 mos. 1 yr.
75c. $1.00 $1.50 $2.50 $6.00

Additional inches at same ratio

Advertisements placed in the local column
10 cents per line.

Help and situation wants, for sale, to let,
etc., 12 cents per line; nothing taken less than two lines.

1067.

The September average of the Enterprise circulation was 1067 copies, after waste and exchanges had been deducted. Our circulation exceeds that of any other paper in town and can prove it.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS.

Our congratulations are hereby extended to the Hon. F. E. Huntress, and Somerville, Belmont and Arlington, that this senatorial district elected on Wednesday evening a Huntress delegation to the approaching senatorial convention. This makes sure the nomination of the Hon. E. F. Huntress. Of his election there is not a doubt. Mr. Huntress is one of the people. He is in touch with all that concerns the public welfare. A man of ability, and one whose observation and culture have brought him into near relationship with business and social life, he as our next senator will not fail to secure the best there is in legislation for his constituents. Again we congratulate this senatorial district and Senator Huntress to be, on the happy outcome of Wednesday evening. Huntress and Crosby will make a strong representative team for Arlington. Arlington is a unit for Crosby and Huntress.

THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

The right of suffrage is legacy left us by the fathers, and a legacy, be it remembered, that cost many a precious life. There is no intelligent man who has the moral right to withhold his vote upon any question affecting the public good. That indifference which will keep a man from the polls is an indifference which should deprive one of the right of citizenship. To vote and to vote intelligently is the duty as well as the privilege of every individual man of required age and qualification. We do not mean by this that it is necessary that one should become a partisan, and so cast his ballot for his party whatever be its attitude. We are good deal tired of the exclamatory saying "our country right or wrong." The right of suffrage carries with it a responsibility. This button-holeing business in politics has become an intolerable nuisance. The casting of the ballot ought not to be considered a personal favor to be done the friend. One is to vote both conscientiously and intelligently. All this we write in view of the approaching November election. Let every man of us see that we are registered, and then let us see that we vote for our best men. Don't be influenced by the baby plea that "it is our turn." There is no individual who can justly lay claim to public official position. The office has claims upon the individual, and so it happens that the office should seek the man. Later on we shall have more to say of the approaching election—meanwhile let us register, and in every way be prepared to perform our duty intelligently and honestly at the polls in November.

THE INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL.

The International Council of Congregationalists, which closed its sessions on Friday, was a coming together of the most eminent theological ability and culture. The sermons preached, the papers read, and the discussions which followed all revealed that liberal growth in the religious world which is in keeping with the advanced intellectual thought of the day. The arrangements for these public meetings, however, were unfortunate in the extreme. While we recognize that everybody could not be accommodated in Tremont Temple, and while we further recognize that the delegates to this world-wide council must have seats reserved for them, still the council might have and should have avoided advertising its meetings open to the public through the columns of the city and country press. As a matter of fact, the meetings of the council were substantially for the comparatively few, and it should have been understood through the authority of the council that the doors would be under lock and key after a certain hour; this would have saved many a sinner from taking a useless journey to Boston for the purpose of entering a temple already preoccupied by the saints. Human nature, however sanctified it may have become, has not a little of the "old Adam" in it yet. The Rev. D. D.s are not going to budge, although some poor lost wretch is compelled thereby "to climb up some other way." We know just how it is, for we tried to get in to the holy of holies. We were promptly met, however, at the entrance to the audience room of the temple by that gray-headed boss usher who seemed a reliable St. Peter with the keys of heaven in his hand. But, in spite of all the provoking disappointments that came to such an army of those who would have gladly entered, the sessions of the council have brought together a representative world, and the work accomplished must prove of especial value to every and all nations. There is much comfort to us outsiders in the thought that up "yonder" there will be no seats reserved for International Congregational delegates. Whoever heard of reserved seats in a Moody and Sankey meeting? But, then, the object of this International Council of Congregationalists was not to save sinners, but to compare notes, so that it might be determined who was and is the soundest in the faith.

"I CANNOT AFFORD TO MARRY."

"I cannot afford to marry" is the assertion of many a young man of marriageable age and of correct and industrious habits. In many instances the reason given by the young man is a good one, one which would be favorably heard in any court authorized to render a decision thereon. How, it may well be asked, can the average young man marry and become the father of a family on a salary of a few hundred dollars, when the girl of his choice has had all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life dealt out to her by the father and mother who have thought it degrading that their daughter should learn to make bread and help wash the dishes and dust the rooms. We have always insisted that our girls should be taught some useful employment, as well as our boys. That young lady who is not able to cook a steak and make a loaf of bread is not fitted to become the wife of the average man.

"Be ye not unequally yoked together" implies that the wife has her part to perform in the home life. This "falling in love" and getting married involves something more than mere sentiment. To become "husband and wife" is a partnership which means business. "To train up the children in the way they should go," to clothe and feed them, to get them ready for school, and then see that they are constant in their attendance, must all come from the united thought and work of husband and wife. That girl is wise who is ready and anxious to marry that young man whom she loves, who though poor is yet industrious and saving, and who is willing as his wife to help him build up a home. It isn't so much what the young man is worth in the money market, as what he is in and of himself that most concerns the marriageable young lady. And the query that most concerns the young man involves the interrogatory: "Is the young lady whom I would marry willing to so care for the home, that it shall prove the happiest spot on earth for both father and mother and for the children as they come on?"

We once heard the Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer of New York say in a public lecture that "that young man is a coward who hasn't the courage to marry on 75 cents a day," provided always that the young man and woman have been properly trained and educated in the home. The Rev. Dr. Collyer himself married a most sensible and worthy woman when he was receiving but $1 a day as a wage earner. No young man or woman, who entertains right views of life, and who are free from physical ailment, need delay for want of accumulated wealth in early establishing a home for their wedded life.

It is a misfortune, at least, if not a crime, of the American people, that they are loosening their grip on the home. "I can't afford to marry" is not only the destroyer of the home, but it is frequently the parent of all vice. The home life is the normal condition of mankind.

A CAMPAIGN OF WORK.

The commanding general before the fight is actually on, carefully lays out his campaign for the battle to be fought. He accurately arranges the position of his subordinate officers; he acquaints himself with the point of attack he is to make upon the enemy, and this point of attack is always to be made just where the opposing forces are the weakest. Not differently should it be with all who have to do with work in whatever form. The main reason why so little is accomplished in any line of industry, in comparison with what might be accomplished, comes from the fact that there is oftentimes so little intelligent plan and forethought in what we attempt to do. A systematized order of doing things is invariably an assurance of success. Now that the long winter evenings are coming on, some definite arrangement should be made whereby we may the better appropriate them to ourselves. We have especially in mind the children, those of the required age to be in school. It doesn't matter that we have heretofore written of "what many denominate the push and hurry so frequently seen in our public schools, it is still true that school children of an average age should have some little time apportioned them outside of school hours in which to study. A half hour, for instance, set apart for reading would not only prove instructive but it would greatly aid in forming the habit of systematic industry. Let this half hour, more or less, come at a stated time, and then allow nothing to interrupt. We believe in the most generous amount of play for the children, and all this can be had at the proper hours, without interference with the study or reading half hour. If the fathers and mothers here in Arlington were to so regulate their children's time, the public schools would be indefinitely aided in their work

Then, too, the older grown should arrange for the approaching winter evenings, as well as the children. Arlington has already several organizations for intellectual pursuits which take the members thereof from their homes of an afternoon or evening, and while all this is well, some provision should be made whereby the family could, for the majority of evenings, be kept at home, interested in some plan of amusement and study adapted to every member of the household. The habit of being at home for the most of the time during the long winter evenings, may be classed as a virtue. To up and run as soon as the dinner hour is over, for the club room or even the public library, is not the better way. Home is the place above all others where we should be of an evening. It is at this time that the family as a whole can come together and beget and promote in each other an interest in a variety of ways. That husband or father is extremely unfortunate who feels that he must up and go as soon as he has "swallowed his supper." And yet we know of just such instances. We now have in mind a man in a neighboring state, formerly the president of the School Board in his locality, and a justice of the peace court, who, without fail, leaves his home on every evening of the week, save Sunday evening, for the corner grocery store, while his wife as regularly leaves for her gossiping tour throughout the neighborhood. This husband and wife are practically never at home of an evening and the only virtue which commends them in their nightly wanderings is the agreement that they will return to their "bed and board" as early as 9:30 o'clock. This gadding the streets or loafing in public places of resort, is destructive to all home life. We'll venture right here in Arlington, there are homes which seldom see the family together during waking hours. There is need of a revival in our American home life. The children will naturally return to the fold when the night shuts down, if they see the fathers and mothers happy and contented therein. So we repeat, early plan for these winter evenings that are so nearly upon us. See that the evenings are made so pleasant and interesting that the boys and girls will be only too glad when "the lamps are lighted," or the electric lights are turned on. Lay out your campaign of work and amusement in such a way that the home shall be kept intact. Let nothing come between it and you!

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The poem entitled "The Man with the Hoe," by Edwin Markham, we have read and re-read, that we might, if possible, see why the author wrote so extravagantly of the laboring man, or, perhaps we had better say, of the tiller of the soil. It doesn't matter that Mr. Markham may have had in mind when he penned those verses the French peasant, so far as he says, he makes his little poem now so widely read, applicable to the tiller of the soil wherever found. In the first place, what Mr. Markham writes, is not true. "The man with the hoe" is not akin to the ox—he is not so bent to earth that he is brought on all fours. He dares think more or less for himself. However degraded incessant labor may have made "the man with the hoe," he is still a man. Edwin Markham, in spite of the merit of his poem as a specimen of composition, has put that which he affirms in fact an exaggerated and distorted way. He hasn't stated his proposition accurately, while his demonstration is more greatly at fault than is the original statement. While Mr. Markham's poem reads well, it isn't well. It lacks the essential element of truth.

Mr. W. A. Twombly of Winchester started for New York on Wednesday morning with a handsome floral horse-shoe for Admiral Dewey. This little monument of the rarest flowers is over five feet high, done within in red, white and blue blossoms over which appears the state seal of Massachusetts, with the solitary word—Algonquin. At the base is the word "Massachusetts." Mr. Twombly goes to the big city with a letter of introduction from Gov. W. C. W. A. Twombly. This floral piece is to be presented the admiral on his flagship. Massachusetts would unquestionably vote for Admiral Dewey for the presidency, were he the nominee at this writing. The truth is, everything and everybody is Dewey just at present.

Julia Dent Grant and Prince Cantacuzene are surely married, if tying the knot twice over, amounts to anything. The marriage ceremonies, both the Russian and American, simply dazzled one with splendor. It is getting to be rather a common occurrence for our American girls to be made princesses. The royal bloods of Europe well understand what is meant by a "good catch."

We hope that every girl in Arlington will take the trouble to go to the library and read in the September number of the Cosmopolitan that interesting article entitled, "The Delightful Art of Cooking," by Anna Beach. Don't miss this reading.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
To Cure Sore Throat in One Day
To Cure Hoarseness in One Day

Take Cleveland's Lung Healer, 25c. If it fails to cure, your money will be refunded by H. A. Perham, P. O. B'dg.

ODD AND ENDS.

Ever happy Chicago calls the hot wave that visited her a few weeks ago "the latest demonstration of the extraordinary versatility of our climate."

David B. Hill is said to have a plan of harmonizing the New York Democrats. He ought to have it patented.

"Times are prosperous." The New York city police department has reaped a revenue of $3,500,000 from burglars and highwaymen in the last eighteen months.

Oysters R meeting with a warm reception.

At what place in Boston can you obtain the most extensive view? At Tremont Theatre, for there you can see "Way down east."

Agricultural policy: Eat what we can and can what we can't.

HOW HORNETS DEFEND THEIR HOMES. There is always a sentinel on watch at the entrance, and when a stone is thrown at the nest "the hand that threw it has been marked as sure as the sun shines, and before the attacking party can possibly turn the head he will feel a stunning blow in the forehead, and possibly drop to the earth with pain, for the hornet flies with such velocity that the human body is not swift enough in movement to get out of the way." In making such a charge the hornet flies "with head and tail together," and the sting is driven deep. The hornet, while possessing the faculty of marking the direction of a missile thrown at the nest, is incapable of locating the enemy by night and the thrower of the stone, if sheltered by bush or tree, may escape the penalty of his act.—Scientific American.

Every singer in a quartet can tell you three good reasons why the organization isn't absolutely perfect.—J. G. Holland.

Youth: "Do you think that I can ever do anything with my voice?"

Professor: "Well, it may come handy in case of a fire."

Spurgeon's advice to a bride: "Let him be the head, and do you be the neck, and turn him which way you please."

A woman that can make good bread has as much title to be called an "artist" as a woman who paints a bad sunset.

What a singular incongruity is this,—pardoning an innocent man: forgiving him for doing what he never did! For this great benefaction Dreyfus leaves France and promises never to do so again.

Altgeld says that "not a single respectable argument can be found for the gold standard." But then Altgeld has been so long a stranger to respectable arguments that he could not be expected to recognize one at sight.

Children live in a world of imagination and feeling. Facial expressions so dear to mothers' hearts, which all too soon give place to lines less soft, may be perpetuated in a Litchfield photograph.

Veritas approves of the new automobile gun carriage which can be sent to do the fighting while the gunners remain at a safe distance. That's the kind of artillery for him.

Electromobile is the best name for the mobiles propelled by electricity, it is so equine-nit, you know.

Esterhazy's confession would have been believed if anybody else had made it.

Teacher: Can you tell the occupation of any one of our selectmen?

Pupil: Why, yes. Farmer Doe raises Crosby corn.

The statement that water may be made to freeze and boil simultaneously seems paradoxical to those who have never witnessed the operation. But this is quite possible under suitable conditions and with suitable precautions.

A small quantity of water is placed in a shallow dish under the receiver of an air pump and by exhaustion the pressure is reduced below the vapor pressure of ice at 0° or 0.46 cm, when the water will be seen to boil and freeze at the same time, the lowering of the temperature being caused by rapid evaporation. A pump with automatic valves ought to be used in this experiment so as to attain sufficient exhaustion, also the water should be most thoroughly insulated thermally from the pump plate and some drying agent (e.g. sulphuric acid or calcium chloride) should be used to absorb the water vapor rapidly.

The same result may be obtained more easily and satisfactorily as follows: Take a strong thin glass flask (Bohemian glass is best) of about one pint capacity nearly filled with water, boil its contents half an hour so as to expel all the air from the water and the flask. While still boiling violently cork the flask quickly with a rubber stopper, and immediately remove the flame with which it has been heated. Invert the flask and pour cold water upon it. The water will resume its boiling. If ice water be used the water will continue to boil until it reaches about 3° C. The process is to be continued from this point by the application of some liquid colder than ice water. Such a liquid can easily be prepared by dropping lumps of commercial carbon dioxide (such as is used for charging soda fountains) into sulphuric ether. By the application of this liquid to the flask the

JOHN D. ROSIE,

Respectfully announces that he is prepared to make

Suitings Overcoatings and Trouserings

in the latest styles and fabrics, both foreign and domestic, at reasonable prices.

Also particular attention given to ladies' work

637 Mass. Avenue, P. O. Arcade.

WINDOW GLASS.

All sizes, thin and double thick.

S. Stickney & Co,

466 Mass. Avenue.

Johnson's Arlington Express.

J. H. EDWARD'S Prop.

Main Office, Monument View House

Opp. Soldiers' Monument.

Order Box, Fanueil Hall Market

Baggage checked to all depots and steamboat wharves or transferred to destination.

If you have any Expressing, Piano or Furniture Moving to do please give us a call.

We have the largest business and can give better results than any other express in Arlington. Telephone, 122-3 Arlington

Two Trips Daily. First Team Due at 1 p.m.

PICTURE FRAMES.

CRAYONS.

Litchfield Studio

655 Mass. Ave.,

Arlington, Mass.

WATER COLORS.

H. B. JOHNSON,

Steam and Hot Water Heating,

Greehouse Contractor, Steam Pump Repairer, etc.

PIPE AND FITTINGS FOR SALE

AT BOSTON PRICES.

Boilers Re-tubed. Artesian Wells. Wind Mills. Roofing.

In all work contracted for the latest devices and most approved appliances are used and personal attention given to every job. Estimates furnished on contracts of any amount and satisfaction guaranteed.

Sept 30, 1

Sunday, Oct. 1st. Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity.

Bethel Lodge will work the initiatory Wednesday evening on two candidates.

Judge Hardy and H. A. Phinney are back from Newport, N. H. on horseback

Dr. Dennet and his wife are at Seabrook in Maine.

Mrs. Hutchinson of 31 Central street desires a few milk customers. Milk strictly fresh.

Mr. Fred Cooke and Mr. Fred F. Squire started on Wednesday evening for Minneapolis on business.

The Rev. S. C. Bushnell took in on Friday the Plymouth excursion along with the delegates of the International council.

The W. W. of the Universalist church will hold a food sale in the vestry of the church Saturday, Oct. 7, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Mr. S. P. Prentiss is in New York visiting his brother and shouting for Dewey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bassett are in New York helping along the Dewey demonstration.

A pleasant company of friends were entertained on Saturday evening by Mrs. Edward H. Cutter on Summer street.

Mrs. Laura M. Worthley is visiting her uncle H. W. Pottle in Arkansas City, Kan.

The Arlington high school foot ball team is to play at Malden with the Malden high school foot ball team next Wednesday.

A special car went buzzing through Arlington on Monday with the railroad commissioners on board. They were on a tour of inspection.

Horace Hardy, recently graduated from Dartmouth college, is now a student in the Harvard law school.

Mrs. Henry Swan and family are home from their summer vacation.

The Ida F. Butler Lodge of Rebekah will meet next Monday evening in its lodge room for the purpose of initiation of candidates.

Mr. Frank C. Adams is so far recovered from his recent illness as to be about his usual business.

Miss Angie Bennett arrived home on Thursday from Nova Scotia where she had been visiting her parents.

Arlington is likely soon to have a golf club. Henry Hornblower, Waterman A. Taft and Henry B. Peirce are interesting themselves in this English game.

The Rev. Thomas Johnstone of Scotland was entertained by Mrs. Wiggin at her home on Maple street during his attendance on the International Council.

Ex-Senator Bailey started on Thursday morning for the Maine woods on the hunt for deer.

The Arlington House under its new management shows by its register a constantly increasing patronage. The house is being kept up to date.

Mrs. William T. Foster and Mrs. Harry W. Bullard heard the lecture in Trinity Court Hall, on Thursday evening, given by Charlotte Ruskin Stetson, on "America's Peace."

The New York World, always newsy, enterprising and interesting, is especially so, now that it is boozing Dewey for president in 1900. These are red-letter days for New York city.

Evening services will be resumed at St. John's Church, Academy street, on Sunday evening next at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. James Yeames will preach. Subject: "The Lesson of the Autumn Leaves."

The Girls' Friendly Society of St. John's Parish will hold its first meeting for the season in the parish house, Maple street, on Wednesday next, at 7:45 o'clock.

Choir rehearsal at St. John's Church on Saturday evening at 7:30, conducted by Mr. Arthur Shackley, organist and choir master of the Church of the Ascension, Boston. All interested in church music are invited.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at St. John's Church on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The rector will preach.

Mr. William E. Wood, of the firm of William T. Wood & Co., went to New York on Monday night on business. As an incident of his trip he will see something of the Dewey demonstration.

If those not receiving their copy of the Enterprise on Saturday afternoon of each week will promptly inform us of the fact by postal card or otherwise, we shall regard it as a personal favor.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fister are getting settled in their new home on Gray street.

The Woman's Club is making ready for the approaching sessions of its association.

Mrs. Warner S. Doane of Warren street, in company with Mrs. George Fisher of West Medford, started for New York last Monday, where they will spend two weeks with friends. They will also witness the Dewey demonstration.

A call at the kindergarten school on Wednesday found the children with the teachers busily and happily at work. We know of no sunnier spot in Arlington than the school of little folks on Maple street.

Mr. Litchfield will attend next week the photographer's convention, to be held in Copley Hall, Boston.

We are under obligations to Mr. Whytal for tickets to the formal opening exercises of the food fair in Mechanics' building, Boston, Monday, Oct. 2d.

Why do you, ladies, go to Boston for your tailoring made suits, when our Arlington tailor, J. D. Kosic, will give you the latest styles in ladies' garments? Try him.

Lois W. Recroft and family returned on Wednesday from their summer vacation to their home, 13 Ravine street.

Mrs. A. O. Hill of the Heights is putting in a full line of millinery for her autumn and winter trade. Mrs. Hill will fill any and all orders on the shortest notice. Her goods cannot be surpassed either in quality or style. Give her a call.

The Enterprise was promptly on hand giving from its bulletin board on Tuesday the arrival of the Olympia, with Admiral Dewey on board, soon after the flagship reached Sandy Hook. The news of the Enterprise is always the latest and most reliable.

Twenty-three members of the Arlington veteran firemen attended on Thursday, by invitation of the Roxbury veterans, the muster at South Weymouth. The boys had a jolly time, and on reaching home went to their headquarters and had their fill of the best to eat and drink.

At several points in Arlington the flags were flying on Friday and Saturday in honor of Admiral Dewey. Arlington and all this region in near vicinity are the headquarters for patriotism. Indeed, we manufacture the article right here under the shadow of Bunker Hill and Lexington.

We seldom go to the Robbins Library for a half hour on an afternoon that we do not find the Rev. Mr. Yeames there pouring over the books or what is latest in the magazine world. The Robbins Library is a favorable place in which to find a reading man or a reading woman. "Never too late to learn" is the motto of your real thinker.

Read the advertisement in this issue of the Arlington House. This historic tavern has been refitted and refurbished throughout, and is now up with the times in every way. The rooms are neatly arranged and kept, and the table is well supplied with the best the markets afford. Accommodations for transients and table boarders.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett of 19 Avon place are to be congratulated on the arrival to their home of a fine, bouncing boy. The youngster was born at the 9th hour of the day, on the 9th day of the month, in the 9th month of the year, and in the year '99, and weighed 9 pounds, and is the grandson of William Whytal, a '9er.

We regret to learn of the accident which befell Mr. Thrope, the sexton at the Unitarian church, on Monday morning. It seems that Mr. Thrope was putting in shape one of the electric light fixtures when the step ladder upon which he was standing lost its footing, which brought Mr. Thrope to the floor. By the fall he broke a bone in the left ankle.

Mr. Charles H. Stevens, whose business is that of hardware and plumbing, is one of the live men of Arlington. Mr. Stevens is in every way up to date. He never gets left. One of the most agreeable men to meet, and always ready to exchange a pleasant greeting. He is busy all the while, and yet no man escapes him without a pleasant "good morning."

Mr. Garrett Barry of the police force starts on Monday on his vacation for New York. Mr. Barry is to take a sail up the Hudson, visit Saratoga and Niagara, and other points of interest.

Police Officer Barry takes a delightful season of the year for his outing—but, then, he is a man of sentiment. We well remember that when a boy in school he had lots of poetry in his make-up.

Funeral services for Mrs. Caroline Butler, formerly a resident of Arlington, mother of the Rev. Alfred A. Butler, warden of the Seabury Divinity School, Minnesota, were held at St. John's Church on Tuesday morning last. The rector, the Rev. James Yeames, read the sublime and beautiful service from the Church's Book of Common Prayer. The remains, which had been brought from Faribault, were buried in the family lot in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Chief Policeman Harriman starts on the 7th of October for his vacation by the waters and in the woods of Maine.

Mr. Harriman is to take with him his fishing tackle, gun and dog, so one may be sure there will be less game in the Pine Tree State after Chief Harriman's vacation is over than there is now.

When Mr. Harriman shoots, he shoots to kill, and when he throws his line into the waters, he is bound to catch a fish.

The Historical Society held its first session for the autumn and winter series of meetings on Tuesday evening. The president, Edward S. Fessenden, presided. Mr. E. Nelson Blake read an interesting and instructive paper on Hamilton. The object of the society, as its name implies, is historical research.

It meets on the last Tuesday evening of each month in Pleasant Hall on Maple street. A fund of valuable knowledge is to be gained from its papers and varied discussions.

A good cup of coffee in the morning goes far in bringing peace and good nature to the household for the whole day. But what vile stuff is often sipped under the name of coffee! Coffee that is coffee is made in this way, namely:

The coffee berries should be freshly roasted and ground, mixed with the white of an egg, put into the tin pot with two-thirds of the requisite amount of water exactly at the boiling point, and then allowed to boil up, and stirred down five times, when the remainder of the water should be added, after which the coffee is ready to be served.

Good wives, just try the above recipe, and see for yourselves what a magic effect it will have upon your husbands.

ROBBINS SPRING HOTEL.

We spent a delightful hour on Thursday afternoon in the Crosby school, on Winter street. We were making our way in that part of the town at the time above named, when, passing the school building, we read above the front entrance the inscription, "The Crosby School." We felt like raising our hats to the memory of him whose name the building bears. We have not forgotten the deep and abiding interest the late Josiah Crosby took more than a third of a century ago in the public schools of Arlington. He was a member of the school board when we taught in the 60s, and we still remember with all the vividness of yesterday what a helpful friend and cheerful adviser he was to both pupils and teachers. So, to the memory of Mr. Crosby, we pulled the bell of the school building which bears his name. We were cordially received by Miss Scanlan, the principal of the school. Her room is upon the lower floor, inviting in every way. The room is flooded by the sunlight, thus keeping with the happy, cheerful faces of the children. At the time of our brief call the children were having their lesson in drawing, and they evidently knew just what they were doing. We saw specimens of their vertical penmanship, and it was legible as printed very neatly done for pupils from 10 to 12 years of age. If we could get such copy in our newspaper offices, there would be fewer typographical mistakes in the daily and weekly journal. As we had just a little bit of time to spare, our call at the several rooms were made on the wing. Mr. R. A. Knight, the janitor of the building, took us in charge, and gave us admittance to the different rooms. We met Miss West, Miss Worcester, Miss Rogers, Miss Snell and Miss Faxon in their individual rooms, and found each one of these teachers surrounded by a company of happy, industrious children. We desire to emphasize the fact that we found the bright sunlight streaming into each room. We are glad we have board of education the members of which are not cranks on the subject of tree planting and tree setting. Write it down as an immutable law of nature, that no tree should be planted or set so near the school building or private residence that it will cast its shadow upon it. And write down this other fact, that whenever a tree does cast its shadow upon the home, whether it be on Pleasant street or on Academy street, the biggest sort of a stupid blunder has been made. But our school board is all right on the sunshine question, and the children and the teachers are the gainers thereby. The Crosby school building is fortunately situated, while the school itself is fortunate in its principal and corps of teachers. Mr. Knight, the janitor, keeps everything in and about the building in "apple-pie order." The basement of the building is so neatly kept that "the ladies' sewing circle" might meet there without any risk of dust or dirt. At the time of our visit Mr. Knight was touching up in an ornamental way the furnaces. Indeed, his handy and artistic work can be seen in every nook and corner of the building, while the grounds adjoining the building are kept with exceeding taste. In a word, the Crosby school and the Crosby school building are all right. We were most agreeably impressed with the unanimously complimentary words had for Superintendent Sutcliffe by the Crosby school teachers. When "two or three are agreed as touching one thing," that thing is likely to be granted. Much more, then, when Superintendent Sutcliffe and his efficient corps of teachers are agreed as to all educational work, as they are, what may we not expect of our schools in the line of scholastic attainments?

Mr. Warren L. Russell a graduate of the High school two years ago, is taking a past graduate course at this school. He has also been elected editor of the High School Clarion, a position he very easily filled the last year of his school life. We trust Mr. Russell will accept the same.

Mr. H. L. Frost, whom everybody knows as authority in the tree and shrub line, is just back from a business trip to Newport, R. I. It is to be presumed that Mr. Frost gave one of his choicest bouquets to the newly made princess.

The Rev. Mr. Bushnell's mother celebrated her 80th birthday on Thursday, at her home in Cambridge. Mr. Bushnell, her son, heartily joined his mother in the anniversary.

The Rev. Clarence D. Brown D. of Salt Lake City preached an interesting sermon in the Congregational church on Sunday. Mr. Brown was a delegate to the International council.

The subject to be discussed on Sunday evening at the young people's meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church is the following: "Our Own Church; What Can We Do for Her?" The meeting will be in charge of the pastor.

The subject to be discussed on Sunday evening at the young people's meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church is the following: "Our Own Church; What Can We Do for Her?" The meeting will be in charge of the pastor.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges, P. O. building, headquarters for high grade stationery, confectionery and newspapers.

A ride the other day behind Postmaster Hoitt's elegant span, with the postmaster himself holding the "ribbons," put us flying through the air. And then a similar ride behind Father Mulcahy's fleet horse, a day or two later, sent us over the road at a 240 gait. Father Mulcahy so well understands how to manipulate the reins that time and distance count but little. It would be an interesting contest between priest and postmaster were they both to let go their flyers at the same time and over the same stretch of road.

Ladies, clean your kid gloves with La Belle Goule Cleaner, for sale only by W. A. Hodges,

Belmont Crystal Spring Water

BELMONT, MASS.

D. L. TAPPAN, Prop. 269 Mass. Ave., Arlington

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

C. A. CUSHING, Arlington Heights, WILLIAM WHYTAL, Finance Block,
VERXA & VERXA, Post-office Block

Sell Belmont Crystal Spring Water.

Orders by mail or telephone will receive prompt attention. Orders taken at H. A. Perham's Drug Store, P. O. Block, will receive immediate attention.

J. W. HARRINGTON,

SUCCESSOR TO GEO. D. TUFTS.

Business established about 1858.

Practical House, Sign, and Decorative Painter.

All kinds of hard and soft woods finished in the latest and most improved manner. Kalsomining or tinting in water colors. Graining, Glazing and Paper Hanging. Local agents for one of the largest wall paper houses in Boston. Drop me a card and I will call with samples. All sizes of glass on hand or procured at short notice. Sign writing a specialty. Personal supervision given to all work and satisfaction guaranteed. I respectfully solicit a further share of your patronage.

Shop, 450 Mass. ave., opp. Medford st. Residence, 51 Lewis Ave.

KNOWLES & MARDEN,

PLUMBERS.

Furnaces, Ranges, Steam.

Hot Water, and Gas Fixtures, and Kitchen Furnishings

483 MASS. AVENUE.

PLEASANT ST. MARKET,

R. L. ADAMS, PROP.

DEALER IN

Beef, Pork, Mutton, Veal,

Pleasant Street, Arlington.

ALEXANDER BEATON,

Contractor

and

Builder,

79 Hibbert street,

Arlington Heights.

GUY E. DAME,

Registered
Pharmacist,

59 Park avenue, cor. Mass. avenue.

Telephone, 32 Arlington. Duncan Block

Try my Headache Powders.

They are a sure cure

A. BOWMAN & CO.

Ladies' and Gent's

TAILORS,

487 Mass. ave., Arlington.

ALTERING, CLEANING, DYEING, PRESSING.

We Lead, Others Follow!

Arlington Sea Food Market.

311 Broadway, Arlington.

Opposite the Soldiers' Monument.

Cleanest Market in the state.

Our Fish, Oysters, Clams, and Lobsters, are fresh from the waters.

Give us a call and see for yourself.

GEORGE W. RUSSELL. S. M. TEELE

Telephone 122-5.

WOOD BROS.
EXPRESS

Will move you out or move you in, just which way you happen to be going, and guarantee you just as good a job as if you were always moving.

Piano and Furniture Moving.

We also have an express that runs too and from Boston daily, that will call for your parcels and deliver them promptly.

BOSTON, MASS.—25 Court Sq., 48 Chatham St.;

order box, Faneuil Hall Sq., Arlington Offices—Cushing's Store at Heights.

Town Hall, corner Henderson St.

Residence at 677 Mass. avenue.

J. W. RONCO,

Practical Hair Cutter.

Children's Hair Cutting

is our specialty.

P. O. Building, 637 Mass. ave.,

opp. Post-office.

ARLINGTON, MASS.

W. G. KIMBALL,

Contractor and Builder.

Shop, 1003 Mass. ave.

ARLINGTON.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

Mr. C. H. Kimball of the Heights is a jolly, good-natured man. At his eating saloon he is treated to the best, and enough of it.

Mrs. Charles G. Brockway is home from New York.

The elocic whist club held its first meeting of the season on Friday evening at the home of Harry W. Pearce.

Mr. F. Schnetzer has had a guest this week Herbert Schnetzer of Springfield.

Mr. W. E. Lloyd unfurled to the breezes the Stars and Stripes in honor of Dewey.

The Elmhurst school begins its autumn term on Wednesday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Swet of Westboro have been visiting friends in this vicinity.

During the first days of the week Miss Wood had for a visitor her cousin, Miss Cleveland of Newport, R. I.

The Sunshine club, out of respect to the memory of the late Mr. Champney, did not meet on Wednesday afternoon. The club will meet on next Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. C. T. Parsons.

The Rev. Dr. Stembridge will occupy his pulpit in the Park Avenue Congregational church on Sunday. There will be it is hoped a large congregation to greet the pastor after his long vacation, enforced through illness.

Dr. Abbott of Manchester, N. H. made his daughter, Mrs. C. T. Parsons of Claremont avenue, a flying visit last week. Dr. Abbott is one of the leading physicians of the Queen city.

Mrs. C. W. Hackett who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. T. A. Jernegan, has gone to her home in St. Paul, Minn.

The school board has the grounds in front of the Locke school building graded in trim shape and the sidewalk leading up to the grounds put in first-class order.

Miss Abbott of Manchester, N. H. is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. T. Parsons.

Prayer meeting of the Arlington Heights Baptist church was held at Mrs. Baxter's, corner of Lowell street and Lowell place.

Rev. Charles Spalding, D. D., of the American Baptist Publication society will preach Sunday afternoon at the Arlington Heights Baptist church, Crescent hall. Dr. Spalding has many friends in Arlington, as he preached at the First Baptist church several years ago.

The Young People's Auxiliary connected with the Arlington Heights Baptist church will hold its next meeting at Mrs. Streeter's, 49 Claremont avenue. The debate which was deferred from the last meeting will take place and several other interesting exercises.

Mr. Philbrook, classmate of Mr. A. W. Lorimer gave a very edifying talk last Sabbath evening at the Baptist church.

Arlington Heights Baptist church services: Sunday school 2.15, preaching service 3, evening service 7.30.

An experience party and rally supper will be given by the ladies of Park Avenue church next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Supper will be served in the lecture room. Price of admission 10 cents. A good supper and low admission fee ought to persuade everybody to go. After the supper the ladies will describe how they earned the dollars towards it.

Interesting exercises will be held in Park Avenue Congregational church next Sunday, it being the annual rally day of all the church and friends. Dr. Stembridge delivers a special sermon on "The Church and Her Mission" at the morning service. The Sabbath school, which meets after the morning service, will have instead of the usual lesson, a chalk-talk by a noted speaker. At 4 p. m. the junior C. E.'s will meet as usual. The V. P. S. C. E. meets at 6 p. m. in the lecture room. The evening meeting begins at 7.15 p. m. with a short praise-service, followed by sermon by the pastor. It is hoped that large audiences will attend these services and help the good work along.

In the death of Mr. Edwin Graves Champney, not only has great bereavement come to the family, but Arlington Heights has lost one of its most distinguished citizens. Mr. Champney was born in Boston, Aug. 24, 1842, so that at the time of his death he was a little more than a month past 57 years of age. Mr. Champney had become an artist of conspicuous merit. Coming from a family of artists as he did, he early manifested a love for drawing and painting. He was a pupil for some years of his uncle, Benjamin Champney, subsequently studying his chosen profession in Antwerp, having for fellow students the artists Grundmann, Millet, Van Beers, Harold Fletcher and others.

After returning to this country Mr. Champney attracted the attention of the world of artists through his admirable work. He especially distinguished himself in landscape views and portraits, among the most notable of the latter being that of his father, which hangs in the Woburn library, and one of Mr. William H. Munroe of Lexington, and one of Rev. Charles Lowe of Somerville. Mr. Champney was one of the early teachers at the Art museum in Boston. He was faithful and conscientious in all his work. A man who possessed the charms of a generous and loving nature, he had drawn to himself a large circle of friends. He lived in touch with all that was beautiful in the outward world, so that he became not only the recipient of all that was beautiful but the giver of beauty in all that is found in art and nature. The funeral of the deceased was held at the house on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Parker of the Unitarian church in Woburn conducting the services in an impressive manner. The floral offerings were the choicest bloom. The interment was in the Woburn cemetery.

Mrs. L. D. Bradley has been during the week with friends in Southboro.

The M. M. M. club held its first meeting for the season on Friday afternoon with Miss Edith Kendall.

Next Monday the Herald and Post baseball teams of Boston are to play a complimentary game on behalf of Mr. Lusk, who is a star player on the Herald team. Mr. Lusk has not fully recovered from the injuries he received a few weeks ago in a contested game.

Belmont.

Mr. H. H. Weeks and family of Clover street returned home on Friday from their summer vacation in Vermont.

The proposed social and literary club has not as yet effected an organization. It is, however, bound to materialize, when we shall have more to say of it.

The teachers of the Unitarian Sunday school are to meet for an hour every Friday morning with Rev. Hilary Bygrave for the purpose of studying the lesson for the following Sunday.

Mr. Henry A. Holdrege of Chicago and Miss Annie M. Hunt of Belmont were united in marriage on Tuesday morning, Sept. 26, in the Unitarian Church, by the Rev. Hilary Bygrave.

Miss Bessie C. Bygrave and Miss Jane Swift are to conduct the class in the Unitarian Sunday school that was taught by Miss Eager, who has become Mrs. Woods and taken up her residence at Newton.

The foot ball game has struck the High school boys in earnest. They are putting in the best kind of practice. It is said that Mr. Olin, the principal of the High school, is a whole team in himself in kicking and catching.

Frank Lennan, station agent at this place on the Fitchburg R. R., starts today for Missouri, where he is to have his permanent home. The friends of Mr. Lennan gave him a pleasant surprise party on Wednesday evening for a good-bye and good luck. Mr. Lennan is to engage in mining.

The following persons have been elected to represent the Belmont Congregational Society at the 18th international conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches to be held at Washington, Oct. 16-19: The pastor—Rev. Hilary Bygrave, Mr. E. Cate and Miss M. Livermore; alternates, Mr. C. W. Winn and Mrs. J. E. Elliott.

It is in the air that a Congregational church is to be duly organized here and put into active operation at once. Representatives of this church are to hold services in the old High school building next Sunday. Our good brethren, the Congregationalists, are not to longer allow the Unitarians, the Catholics and Episcopalians to have it all their own way.

ARLINGTON BOAT CLUB.

On Thursday evening, Oct. 5, will be the first ladies' night of the season. There will be dancing to the music of Custer's orchestra.

The entertainment committee have issued tickets which are good to non-members, not accompanied by members to my function given during the winter. These tickets may be had of any member of the committee—Charles H. Swan, Arthur J. Wellington and Winthrop Pattee.

The single shell race on Saturday afternoon was full of interest. William F. Homer still retains the Carter cup. It was a hand-to-hand race from the start to finish. Homer made good time in turning the stake, while Johnson showed his skill at the best on a straight line. Homer won by nearly three boat lengths. Time 6 min. and 22 sec.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Continued from page two.

water will be made to boil till it reaches the freezing point, and the steam at this stage will freeze on the interior walls of the flask, and very soon the bubbles of steam rising to the surface of the water will become encased in an envelope of ice. Ice coated bubbles of steam are indeed a novelty. It is obvious that the water in this case is cooled by means outside itself and not as in the former instance by its own evaporation.

How sheepish it makes a girl feel to have her lover call her his pet lamb in public.

During what part of the church service does the devil go to sleep?

The high school pupil, who has generated hydrogen gas in a small way in a little glass flask, collected it by displacement in a receptacle turned bottom side up, watched it burning with an almost lightless flame at the tip of a glass tube drawn out for the purpose to a fine delivery, will be interested to learn something of the appearance and properties of this substance when, by means of recently devised appliances, it is reduced at extremely low temperature and under an enormous pressure to the liquid state.

On the 7th of June ult., Prof. Dewar delivered a most interesting lecture at the Royal Institution of Gr. Britain on "Liquid Hydrogen as an Instrument of Research." I will give a few salient points of this instructive lecture. He had upon the lecture table a quart of this substance in a vessel which was itself submerged in liquid air. The liquid hydrogen is transparent and has a well defined meniscus. When the plug closing the containing vessel is removed the entering air is at once frozen to a solid and falls to the bottom like a precipitate. A small wad of cotton on a glass rod dipped into it and ignited gives the well known hydrogen flame. A small cork ball sinks at once in the liquid. A solid immersed in it for a few seconds becomes so cold that when it is withdrawn into the air, the surrounding air congeals into a liquid which runs off from the solid in drops much as you see water vapor in the air gather on cold objects, such as ice pitchers and cold water pipes during the dog days. The temperature of liquid hydrogen as found both by a hydrogen gas thermometer and a german-silver resistance thermometer is 21° C absolute. The highest vicissitude attainable is secured by immersing closed glass tubes containing air in liquid hydrogen, when the air immediately freezes and falls to the bottom of the tubes. No electric charge has been obtained of sufficiently high potential to produce a discharge through such a vacuum.

In order to reach the absolute zero of temperature, two more steps must be made substantially as great as the one now made between liquid nitrogen and liquid hydrogen. Liquid hydrogen has a density one four-tenth that of liquid nitrogen. The limit of low temperature attainable must forever be about 20° C above absolute zero unless a much lighter gas than hydrogen be discovered upon the earth, the actual existence of which is, of course, impossible to conjecture.

Pope Leo has just refused a business offer which the projectors asserted would bring him as much revenue as Peter's pence. The wine made from the grapes of the Vatican gardens was to be put up in bottles and sold at the Paris exposition under the label, "Vino Leonino di Sua Santita"—"His Holiness's Wine."

"He that dies pays all debts."

It must be conceded that Mr. Edward Atkinson has the courage of his convictions.

"Thinkst thou there dwells no courage but in breasts?"

That set their mail against the ringing spears, When helmets are struck down? Thou little knownest of nature's marvels."

"I will go into the so-called Democratic party when it gets decent.—Hon. Winslow Warren. There are others.

"Victorious Frederick the Great! At your feet lie suppliant the majority of the so-called Democratic party. They graciously lend their feline paws to pull for you the chestnuts from the fire. Yea, 'They'll take suggestion as a cat laps milk.' It rocks you not that the party of your adoption is rent in twain, its brightest lights turned down; provided you enjoy the empty honor of seeing your name written below Bryan's in 'oo.' My motto: 'I to myself am dearer than a friend.'

Once, not so very long ago, the armor of this knight errant was gilded o'er. 'Twas then he appeared his best. This not long did last ("No more the rising Sun shall gild the morn," &c.) For in vision it was to him revealed that in a silver (16 to 1) coat he best would shine. But '96 left not much of this coat—though of duplo-plate